

Dr. Jacqueline Fairbrass has been named an honored member in medicine by Princeton Premier.

By Princeton Premier

Dated: May 14, 2008

Dr. Jacqueline Fairbrass, health consultant and accredited practitioner of naturopathy, has been chosen for inclusion in the 2008-2009 Princeton Premier Registry.

Dr. Jacqueline Fairbrass is a health consultant and accredited practitioner of naturopathy. She operates a clinical practice in Ottawa, Canada, where she is engaged as a life facilitator. In this capacity, Dr. Fairbrass enables her clients to move past limiting beliefs and physical restrictions to fully embrace the possibilities of life. She has more than twenty-six years of experience teaching, facilitating seminars and running a successful practice. She also has a long standing record of practicing and promoting Complementary and Alternative Medicine, which is the term applied to health care that does not fall under the western medical model. Dr. Fairbrass is also the founder of the School of Complementary Therapies and holds a doctorate in natural health with Honors, from the United Kingdom. Prior to practicing as a life facilitator, she acted as a holistic health practitioner focusing on nutritional counseling, energy medicine, Reiki and reflexology. She was a contributing author for the Clinician's Complete Reference to Complementary & Alternative Medicine, has conducted numerous studies on a multitude of topics such as depression, nutrition, meditation, healing and acupuncture, is a member of the Reflexology Association of Canada, the Ontario College of Reflexology, treasurer of the Anxiety Disorders Association of Ontario and a board member of the Ontario Herbal Association. Her teaching experience spans two decades and encompasses subjects as diverse as business writing and administrative theory. In addition to her inspiring professional and academic achievements, Dr. Fairbrass maintains an impressive personal agenda that consists of community service, altruistic undertakings and leisure activities. In her spare time, she enjoys travel, learning and is a connoisseur of tea.

In recognition of her exemplary career in medicine, Dr. Jacqueline Fairbrass is being included in the 2008/2009 Princeton Premier Registry where she will assume a well-deserved position among the most accomplished business leaders and professionals of every industry from around the globe.

Category	Medical
Email	Click to email author
Website	http://www.princetonpremier.com
Phone	1-888-767-7548
Address	23-35a Steinway Street
State/Province	New York
Zip	11105
Country	United States